Church Health

Fitness magazines glorify health and happiness. The cover model has flawless skin, perfect hair, the brightest smile, and exceptional muscle tone. The implication is that physical health leads to happiness. This message inspires us to buy the magazine as well as its products and instructions.

What if the church in Farmington was a living picture of spiritual health and happiness? She would attract the lost to obey Jesus Christ. As the beautiful and strong body of Christ, no one would be looking elsewhere for spiritual health and vitality (Eph. 1:21-27). Most importantly, God would be glorified.

The New Testament tells us how to grow and mature the body of Christ. In addition to doctrine, worship, and organization, God teaches us how to be the beautiful body of Christ. When we follow his “one another” instructions, we are glorious to God and attractive to truth-seekers.

On August 25, Chuck will begin preaching God’s “one another” passages. We will learn how to be a united, protected from evil, self-healing, encouraging, caring, loving, filled with hope, and strong in faith.
